Introduction

Close harmony singing in quartets is an American musical tradition. Heritage of Harmony, Val Hicks' 50-Year History of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.)<sup>1</sup>, begins with this quote from Sigmund Spaeth<sup>2</sup>:

The male quartet is still the surest source of entertainment on the vaudeville stage or in the theatres and motion picture houses. But it is inevitably the amateur who gets the most fun of close harmony.

There is no doubt that quartets were singing close harmony in the States of North Carolina and South Carolina before 1948. It is the case, however, that the first Carolinas chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. was chartered in 1948 and that will be the starting point for this history of Barbershopping in the Carolinas 1948-2010. The ending point is July 2010 with the formation of the Carolinas District. During this period all of the Carolinas chapters were part of the Dixie Association of Chapters (commonly called the Dixie District).

It was chance meeting in 1938 of two Tulsa, OK businessmen, O. C. Cash and Rupert Hall, in the lobby of the Kansas City Muehlebach Hotel that resulted in the establishment of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc.

Ten years later it was also a chance meeting between two businessmen—Roney Hilliard, from Asheville, NC while he was on vacation in Miami Beach, FL and William H. Day, from Louisville, KY who happened to be a member of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. Louisville #1 Chapter—that resulted in the establishment of the first Carolinas chapter. The Asheville, NC Chapter was chartered June 14, 1948 with 60 members and was sponsored by the Louisville #1 Chapter. It was the 13th chapter to be chartered in the recently established Dixie District and Chapter #523 of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

Fifty-nine Carolinas chapters were formed, chartered, reformed, presented shows, and had quartets and choruses that competed in Dixie District and International (i.e. Society-level) contests from 1948 thru 2010. All of those chapters are identified in the map below. The chart to the right shows the growth of the total active chapters during each year. Twenty-seven chapters existed in July 2010 when the Carolinas District was established.

This history is presented by decades and includes chorus and quartet photos and other information about all of the 59 chapters: Volume I – 1948-1959, Volume II – 1960-1969, Volume III – 1970-1979, Volume IV – 1980-1989, Volume V – 1990-1999, and Volume VI – 2000-2010.

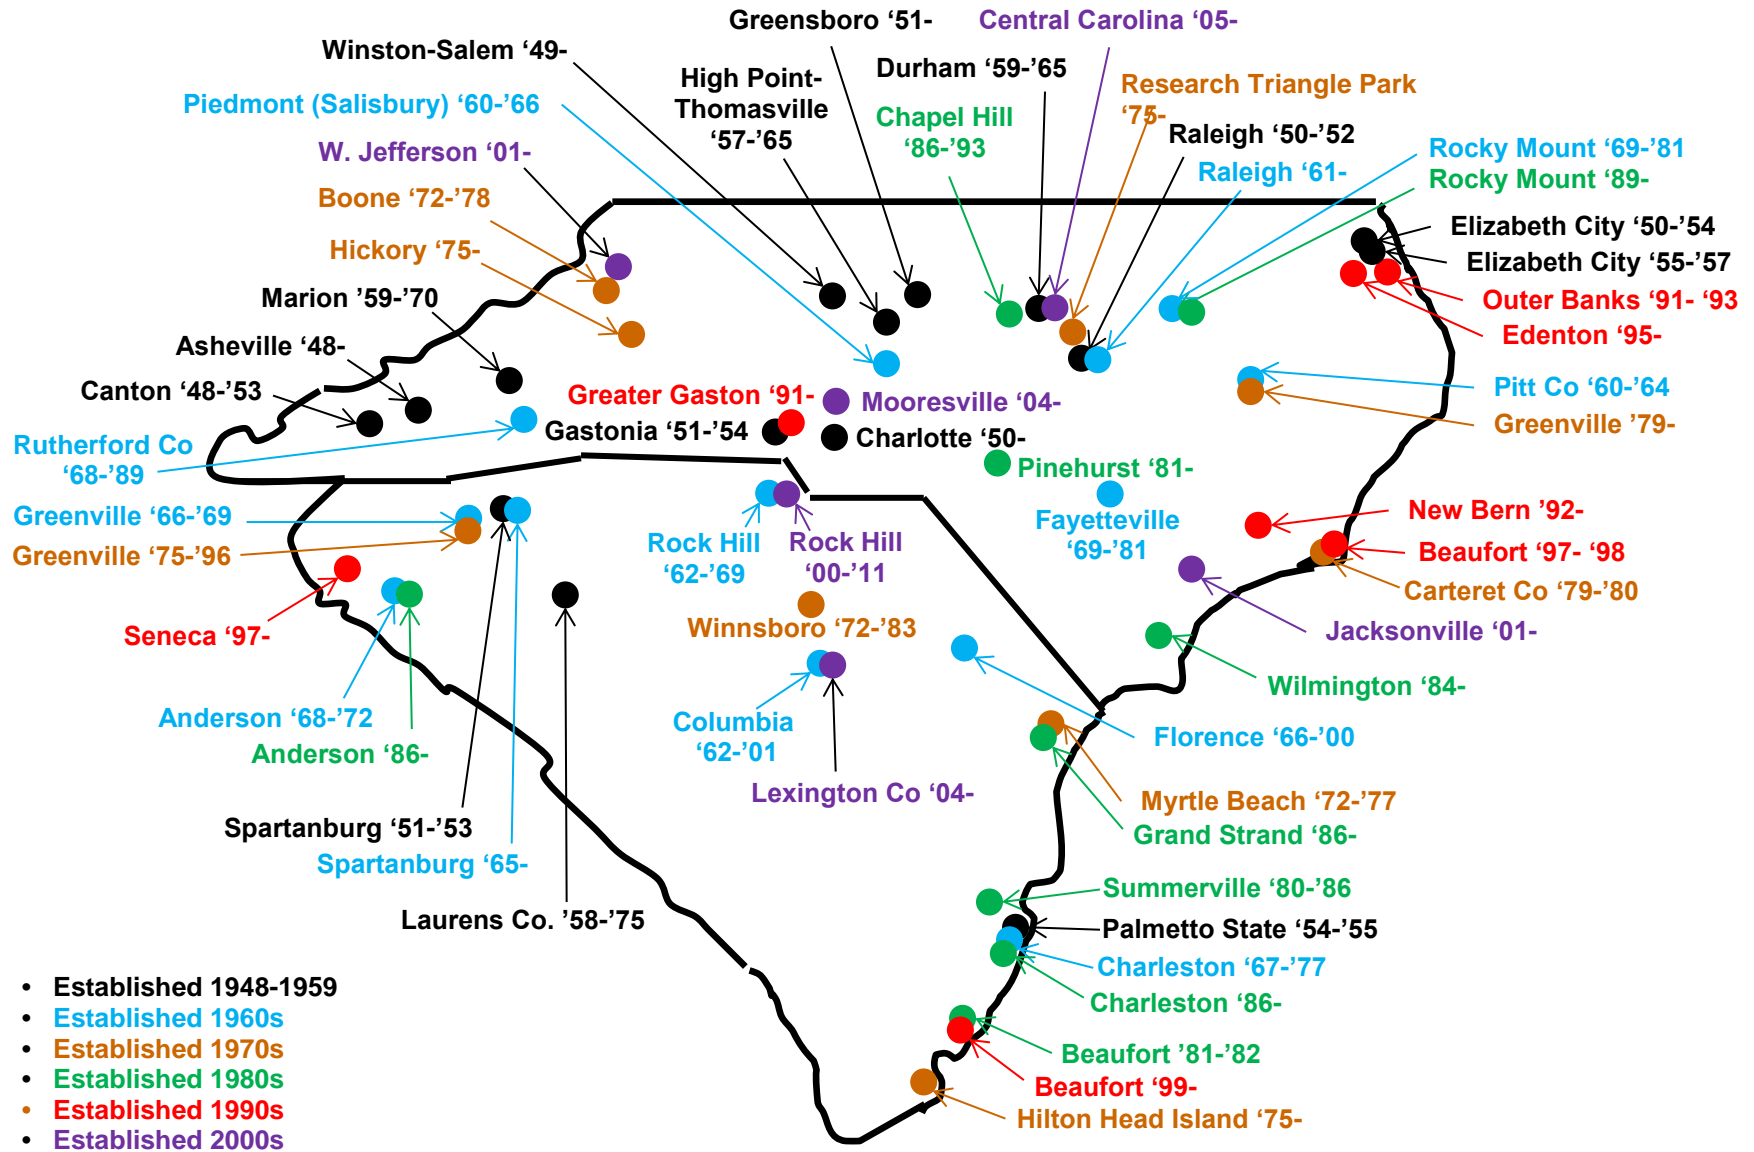

The remainder of this Introduction summarizes the accomplishments of the Carolinas chapters, choruses, and quartets during this 63-year period.

<sup>1</sup> Also referred to as the Society in this history. The organization was renamed the Barbershop Harmony Society in 2005.

From 1948 thru 2010 over 500 Carolinas quartets were formed and sang on annual chapter shows and countless events for the community. It did not take long for a Carolinas quartet to become the Dixie District Quartet Champion and represent the Dixie District at an International quartet contest. The Vagabonds from Winston-Salem, NC competed at the 1950 International Contest and were the 1952 Dixie District Quartet Champion. A total of nineteen Carolinas quartets were Dixie District Quartet Champions and/or represented the Dixie District at an International quartet contest:

Carolinas chapters also had success in chorus competitions. While International quartet contests were held each year starting in 1939, it was not until 1954 that the Society held the first official International chorus contest. The Tobacco Belt Chorus from Winston-Salem, NC Chapter was invited to compete in that contest and finished 22nd. It would be another 26 years before a Carolinas chorus returned to the International stage.

In 1964 a Dixie District Chorus Champion Contest was added to the spring convention with the International Preliminary Chorus Contest continuing to be held at the fall convention. Four of the first seven Dixie District Chorus Champions were from the Carolinas chapters:

- 1964-1965 Dixie District Chorus Champion – Greensboro Chorus from Greensboro, NC
- 1965-1966 Dixie District Chorus Champion – Marion Barbershop Chorus from Marion, NC
- 1966-1967 Dixie District Chorus Champion – Capital Harmonaires from Raleigh, NC
- 1969-1970 Dixie District Chorus Champion – Palmetto Statesmen from Spartanburg, SC
- 1974-1975 Dixie District Chorus Champion – Sir Walter Chorus from Raleigh, NC

Starting with the fall 1980 Dixie District Chorus Contest the winner was declared both the Dixie District Chorus Champion for that year and the International contest representative for the flowing year. The 1980's was the Carolinas chapter's decade for Dixie District Championships and representing the Dixie District at International competitions. Here is their impressive record:

Starting in 2000 the Dixie District returned to selecting the Dixie District Chorus Champion at the spring chorus contest and continued to select the International contest representative at the fall chorus contest. The 2001 Dixie District Chorus Champion was General Assembly Chorus from Research Triangle Park, NC. The 2006 Dixie District Chorus Champion was Rocky Mount Chorus from Rocky Mount, NC.

The first International Seniors Quartet Contest was held at the 1986 Midwinter Convention in Tucson, AZ. It took several years for the Carolinas quartets to get in the groove for seniors quartet competition but once they did they had an impressive record:

Perhaps the most significant contribution from the Carolinas was (and continues to be) the formation of the North Carolina Harmony Brigade (NCHB) and the resulting eXtreme Quartetting movement within the Society. The NCHB was the vision of Charles Rose whose idea was a weekend rally that would attract good quartet men from North Carolina interested in learning more difficult and interesting arrangements and provide two days of unlimited quartetting opportunities. The NCHB held its first rally January 1993 in Pinehurst, NC.

After several years quartetters from outside North Carolina were invited to attend. The secret was out and the Brigade movement began to grow. The Association of eXtreme Quartetting Harmony Brigades (AXQHB) was formed in January 2010 under the leadership of Charles Rose, founder of the Brigade movement. The purpose of the AXQHB is to encourage and support the formation and operation of eXtreme Quartetting Harmony Brigades. As of 2019 there are 10 Brigades in the Society, one in Europe and one in the United Kingdom. The Brigade movement continues to grow.
